Seek Ward Reduction.

Both Gilliam and Key feel that any reduction in the membership of council should be accompanied by a reduction of wards in order to eliminate ward politics and to insure citizens of Atlanta efficient and economical administration of local governmental afficient ministration of local governmental affairs.

The Key plan calls for division of Atlanta into half a dozen wards radiating from the center of the city and extending fan-wise outward to the city limits. When additional annexations are made, additional wards would not be necessary, under the plan, but the new territory would be added to the contiguous ward. This would insure a permanent council of 18 members—two councilmen from each of the six wards, and one alderman from each of the divisions. The councilmen would be named by the voters of the ward from which they are selected and the aldermen, as at present, from the entire electorate. POWER RATE FIGHT MOTORS, FIREARMS

Youth Arrested Here In Avondale Slaying

H. B. McCart, 22, of 178 Walthall street, who said he was wanted for questioning in connection with the slaying two weeks ago of John Fowler, Avondale storekeeper, was arrested by Atlanta police late Sunday night and is being held at the police station for DeKalb officers. Patrolmen S. C. Tuck and Ben Maynard took the youth into custody when notified that DeKalb authorities had issued a warrant for his arrest.

Though Chief A. W. Lilly, of DeKalb county police, said Sunday night that be knew nothing of the arrest, McCart told the arresting officers that DeKalb wanted to question him about Fowler's death. Poison Dose Is Fatal To Ben Hill Girl, 24

Leaving her family at the breakfast table Sunday morning, Miss Hazel E. Tate, 24, of Ben Hill, went into her room and drank poison, dying before she could be taken to a hospital. Members of her family could ascribe no motive for her act.

Mrs. Callie Tate, her mother, said she knew of no reason why her daughter should have taken poison. The girl left no notes. Her father, Sam Tate, was killed in an automobile accident several years ago, it was said. Besides her mother she is survived by two sisters, Mrs. W. H. Dillard and Miss May Tate, and a brother, Raleigh Tate. The funeral will be held at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon at Wesley chapel and burial will be in the churchyard. There will be no 'coroner's inquest, it was said." With Viscount, Lady Astor

Move To Reduce Atlanta Wards Revived

The above map shows the proposed redistricting of Atlanta under the James L. Key ward and council reduction plan, which Alderman Ed A. Gilliam will offer to council at its meeting this afternoon. The heavy black lines with the larger figures show the six wards and constitute the proposed new ward divisions, while the lighter lines, indicate the present wards, designated by the smaller numbers.

of the crop consumed in the United States a benefit equivalent to a tariff sufficient to give you farmers an adequate price. He then went on to outline the six specifications of a plant to bring this about.

"Now that Governor Roosevelt is elected by such an overwhelming majority, all farmers and dealers in farm products should be exceedingly interested in the possible types of legislation which will be put forward to carry out the democratic pledges. All of the plans which have been suggested have for their object the establishing of a domestic price level to bring about a fair ratio between farm product prices and the prices of things which farmers buy. The plans which have received the most backing among the farm groups would not interfere with the marketing machinery as it exists today.

"Under the voluntary domestic allotment plan as it is ordinarily discussed in farm circles, the plan would apply to wheat. Cotton and hogs, and an excise tax amounting to not less than the tariff would be collected at the point of processing. In at least three classifications, the commission has proposed to reduce the electric power rate 30 to 40 per cent in addition to eliminating the surcharge. The gas surcharge ranges from 65 cents to $1, while the electric power rate surcharge is $1 throughout the state.

Assistant Attorney-General John I. Kelly, assigned to the commission, 1s to participate in the hearings as legal representative of the commission. The companies cited to appear Monday in addition to the Georgia Power Company are the Georgia Power & Light Company, of Valdosta, which serves a number of communities in the south Georgia area, the Savannah Electric & Power Company, operating only in Savannah, and the Washington Water & Light Company, of Caton Cardenas, and the counsel to the chancellory, Carlos Manuel Large, resigned today and the minister of the treasury was expected to resideration. Many leading agricultural conomists have given this plan lieir blessing.

"In Chicago, a slightly different plan which does not fulfill Governor Roosevel's Topeks specifications quite so completely has been advocated by a number of businessmen under the name of the Clair plan or minimum price plan. This plan, like the other, provides for a domestic price with only, the exportable surplus flowing at the world price. In this case, however, the price would be fixed by executive order. This scheme, because of its more nearly absolute price-fixing features, probably will earn more downright opposition from the old line marketing agencies than any of the others. An interesting technical detail of the Clair plan is the proposal to use the rural mail carriers and the local post-masters to ascertain and record each individual framer's upoduction, and then to give to each individual farmer certificates for that part of his surplus. The Clair plan seems to me to be more radical than most of the others and it is an interesting consumption and the world price on his surplus. COUNCIL SHAKE-UP HOLDS SPOTLIGHT

Interest Centered in Make-Up of Committees Key Will Name.

Reorganization of the 1933 council, which takes place January 2, holds the political spotlight at the city hall. Se en new members will take their places for the first time in the city's governing body, and for the most part will replace eterans in the service. The new men, however, for the most part were supported in their cam-paigns by the present administration. Chief interest is centered in the selection of the successor to James L. Wells, chairman of council's finance committee. City hall rumors Saturday were to the effect that Alderman Ed A. Gilliam would succeed him as arbiter of city financial matters.

Other members of the committee, according to prognostications, will be Alderman Guy Coleman, first ward; Max M. Cuba, incoming successor to Councilman J. W. Weaver, second; Councilman G. Dan Bridges, third; Alderman Farris A. Mitchell, fourth; Dr. C. W. Childs, fifth; Alderman J. C. (Mott) Aldredge, seventh; Councilman J. Frank Beck, eighth; Alderman James R. Seawright, ninth; Alderman G. Everett Millican, tenth; Councilman George B. Lyle, eleventh; Alderman Alvin L. Richards, thirteenth. Other members of the committee

Curtis, of the tenth, is slated to succeed Alder-man Seawright as chairman of the Atlanta fire board, administration leaders believe; and Seawright prob-ably will go to the chairmanship of the water committee.

the water committee.

The new council faces will include Councilman R. H. Cobb, of the first, who succeeds P. H. Breitenbucher; Cuba, who succeeds Weaver, whom the former defeated in the city primary; Dr. C. W. Childs, succeeding Councilman E. Pierce Dodd; Aubrey Milam, succeeding Wells; E. George Deckner, succeeding Wells; E. George Deckner, succeeding Nelson T. Spratt; Walter M. Sutton, succeeding Tom Smith, twelfth ward, and Frank Wilson, who succeeds Ellis B. Barrett.

Cuba, Childs, Milam, Sutton and Wilson were regarded as pro-adminis-trationists during the city primary, and it is probable that Deckner and Cobb may be found aligned with ad-ministration policies in the reorgan-ministration policies in the reorganized body.

Bridges Likely to Remain.

Bridges is expected to remain as head of the police committee, and the following others appeared Saturday to be assured of their places for 1933:

Streets and the prison and farm committee, Lyle: sewers, Alderman Frank H. Reynolds: electric lights, Alderman G. Everett Millican; hospitals and charities, Councilman J. Frank Beck; aviation, Councilman Joseph E. Berman; municipal buildings, Councilman John A. White: purchasing, Alderman Mitchell; public schools, Alderman Gilliam; boxing commission, White.

Hoover, However, Keeps Own Counsel on Official Attitude Toward Issue.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20.—(P)—
In the face of steadily growing congressional opposition to war debt revision, suspension or cancellation, President Hoover today marshalled, but kept silent upon, his answer to that thorny problem.

Shifting concentration temporarily from his drive for reduced expenditures—now feeling he can stash $550.000.000 from appropriations — the president prepared for his Tuesday's exchange of war debt proposals with President-elect Roosevelt. Pending this interchange, Mr. Hoover has declared himself "loath to proceed with recommendations to the congress."

The chief executive is counting upon Mr. Roosevelt's influence with democratic leaders on Capitol Hill, should they be able to reach common ground, both in his answer to foreign debtors' requests for a suspension of December 15 payments and for a re-opening of debt negotiations. After his first operation Mr. Barnwell never fully recovered and he underwent several others. He went to the city hall scores of times to attend to the city's business when he was suffering intense pain.

Mr. Barnwell was a member of the Atlanta Athletic Club, of Yaarab Temple Shrine and a Mason.

The esteem with which he was held by members of the council is shown by the fact that his room at the hospital was kept banked with flowers from them and other friends. Several resolutions of sympathy have been passed by council and ordered spread on the minutes of that body. Copies were sent to him.

Besides his wife, Mr. Barnwell, who was 48 years of age, is survived by his mother, Mrs. Anne Barnwell, of Atlanta; two brothers, G. A. Barnwell, of Hazelhurst, and Will E. Barnwell, of Atlanta; with whom Mrs. Barnwell was associated in business, and four sisters, Mrs. J. F. Wilburn, of Montgomery: Mrs. Ralph G. Thompson and Mrs. Eunice Johnson, of Atlanta, and Mrs. D. The funeral will be held at 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon at the Peachtree chapel of Brandon; Bond & Condon. Dr. Samuel T. Senter, pastor of the First Methodist church, in which Mrs. Barnwell was active, will officiate, and interment will be in West View cemetery.

Happenings Henry County

BY HENRIETTA L. TURNER. BY HENRIETTA L. TURNER.
McDONOUGH, Ga., Nov. 20.—The surface of a quiet week was broken by one ripple when an unknown negro man broke all local speed records.
Frank Gaissertt, a traveling salesman from Griffir, jokingly called out "Hold him; catch him!" when the negro stopped to recover a pistol accidentally dropped from his pocket last Thursday in the grocery of W. O.
Welch. The man grabbed his gun
run him down or to keep up with him failed.

A skit, "A Deed to the Land Will Not Hold the Soil," will be broadcast from the radio station of the University of Georgia on Tuesday by three Henry county boys, Homer Mitchell, Marshall Shaw and James McCollough. The youths, winners in the recent district contest in terracing farm lands, have been putting on demonstrations in various sections of the strations in various sections of the county under the direction of C. M.

Twenty Henry county Baptist ladies were entertained by the local Wom-an's Missionary Union at a district were entertained by the local Woman's Missionary Union at a district rally and mission study course held Griday at the McDonough church. Mrs. W. J. Greer, district secretary, presided and guests included Mrs. L. A. Ingram. of Fayetteville, who taught the book, "Great Joy," a discussion of foreign work; and Miss Rossie Belle Newton, of Griffin, superintendent. Reports were given by Mrs. W. R. Minter. of Bethany church; Miss Susan Elliott, of Salem; Mrs. Gordon L. Brooks, of McDonough; Mrs. J. O. Maddox, of Lucella, and Mrs. J. W. Sanders, of Rocky Creek.

The negro singers from Ebenezer Baptist church in Atlanta will present "Heaven Bound" at Wesley Chapel Methodist church, on Tuesday evening. A home-coming d.y has been planned for Sunday, November 27, by the Stockbridge Baptist church.

Fire at Ludowici.

LUDOWICI, Ga., Nov. 20.—(P)—
The Ludowici hotel, owned and operated by Miss Annie Baxter, was totally destroyed by fire of unknown origin at an early hour this morning. The building, a frame structure, was in flames when the sleeping occupants were aroused by Miss Bertha Lee Barnard, employe of the hotel. The boarders escaped without saving any of their personal effects. The brick building occupied by Branch's pharmacy, the town's only drug store, was seriously damaged.

KEY, GILLIAM SEEK SHARP REDUCTION IN COUNCIL, WARDS

for their services instead of serving without compensation as at present, The president would get $75 a month, Board Finance Plan.

The plan to divorce the board from council provides that seven of the 15 mills levided on each $1 ad valorem taxes shall be diverted immediately to the treasurer of the school board and that the hoard shall be vested with authority to borrow, unhamperwith authority to borrow. unhampered and for any purpose, $700,000 of the $2,000,000 which the city at the present time may borrow from banks or other sources.

Alderman John Scott, of the second ward, and Councilman Ed L. Almand, of the third, will lead the fight to overcide Key's veto of the traction measure. At the meeting today another measure seeking a 20-year franchise by an unnamed bus concern to operate a fleet of busses on Atlanta streets charging five cents a ride will be before council.

Scott and Almand offered a resolu-Scott and Almand offered a resolu-

Scott and Almand offered a resolution seeking a five-cent car and bus fare for Atlanta, but when it was submitted to the electric lights committee to which council referred it, the new measure, seeking an investigation with a view of reducing the fare, was suggested by Councilman John A. White, of the fourth ward. Council passed the White proposal by a vote of 22 for to 11 against, and Key vetoed it on the grounds that this is toed it on the grounds that this is not the time to press a reduction, that the drive for lower rates was a polit-ical move, that this is not the time to nag any concern, and W. W. Waits, tigations of Alderman W. W. Waits, chairman of the electric lights comto nag any concern, and that inves-tigations of Alderman W. W. Waits, mittee of council, had convinced the alderman that the Georgia Power Company, operator of the traction system, is actually losing money.

Bus Proposal. The bus proposal will go to council a communication from Murrell & in a communication from Murrell & Murrell, attorneys, and probably will be referred to the electric lights comnittee for an investigation. Sam Mur rell, of the firm, contends in his let-ter that they represent a reliable and financially secure company which can place 125 busses on the streets within days and enough to handle the en-

30 days and enough to handle the entire commuting traffic of Atlanta within 90 days.

Councilman E. Pierce Dodd, of the fifth ward and a member of the electric lights committee, opposes the proposal, expressing doubt as to the concern's reliability.

He also charges that the power com-pany is forced to pay a franchise tax to Atlanta and a gross receipt tax, none of which is provided for in the Murrell communication. He holds none of which is provided. He holds Murrell communication. He holds that with the franchise and gross rethat with the franchise and gross rethat with ceipts of the power company with-drawn from the city, as would be the case if another franchise were grantcase if another franchise were grant-ed to another traction company, the city would be in worse financial condition than at present.

The Key administration, however, will face one of the most severe tests in many months on the effort to override his veto, and administration suprule his veto, and administration sup-porters are rallying to his support. Leaders of the administration heid Sunday that the effort to obtain two-thirds of the 39 council votes is doomed to failure because of the "fact that proponents of the move have nothing but a political pay-off on which to stand."

which to stand."

Other Matters Slated.
Other important matters to face the council session this afternoon are:

1. A measure to ask the Georgia assembly to change the city charter so that when the first or third Monday a month, the days on which council meets, falls on a holiday, the council session shall be held the following Tuesday. At the present time the charter makes it mandatory that council meets the first and third Mondays whether there is a holiday or not.

College a la Racketeer

Amuses Fans at Georgia If you've ever wondered what college and football would be like were they run in the manner of a "beer racket," the correct answer is comically shown in "Rackety Rax." feature picture this week at the Georgia theater. Victor McLaglen plays the hardboiled racketeer gone college president, and Greta Nissen convincingly presents the role of professor of sexology.

Though the lines are inclined to be Though the lines are inclined to be rather daring at times they are in keeping with the whole idea, for who could imagine a respectable institution taken over body and soul by gangsters without its suddenly becoming racy and daring—especially if 50 night club entertainers and chorus girls formed its co-ed student body, the football coach was a graduate of Sing. Sing. and cauliflower ears instead of freshman caps adorned the heads of the male students.

This is the situation created when rackets hit college and the climax is in the true "gorilla" style, bombs and all, to say nothing of a machine gun war between two college football teams.

Marjorie Beebe and Lloyd Hamilton are featured in a comedy, and newsreels and other short subjects complete the bill.

HEADLINERS.

Headliners include Alabama and Vanderbilt at Birmingham and Tennessee and Kentucky at Knoxville. These games would have bearing on the conference title race if Auburn should happen to go to sleep in the South Carolina game.

For Vanderbilt and Tennessee have only tie games against their records. The game that holds the interest of Georgia fans Thanksgiving Day will be played here, with Oglethorpe meeting Mercer's championship eleven at Hermance field.

It is home-coming for the Petrels, coached by Harry Robertson, who has just signed a new two-year contract. In other games North Carolina State plays South Carolina, Virginia Poly and V. M. I. get together, Clemson meets Furman's strong S. I. A. A. eleven, Mississippi meets Mississippi State. North Carolima plays Virginia, Maryland takes on St. John's. DAVIS STARS.

Confronted with a flat team, Coach Alexander employed a defensive plan of battle and Tech defeated Florida, 6 to 0, in the rain and cold at Gainesville, Fla. Wink Davis, who gained almost 100 yards during the game, scored the touchdown for Tech. It came as the result of a fumble by MeAnly, Florida back, and recovery by Wilcox on the 'Gator 3-yard line.

A hardy 'Gator defense, inspired by the fine tackling of Jimmy Hughes, repulsed several Tech threats to score. Once the Jackets drove to the one-foot line, but lost the ball on downs. Sewanee never had a chance with Tulane, using reserves through most of the game, and lost a 26-to-0 game. Washington and Lee's hapless Generals handed over another sword to Maryland by a 6-to-0 count.

well nigh hopeless. But finally he began to talk. "Hitchcock," he said, "you've been through the mill with us at Auburn for three years. So have you Williams. You know what it is down there. You know how we feel. Maybe you other fellows do too." Wynne told me he was just talking, he didn't know he wanted to say. He went on.

"I thought we had a real football team," he told them. "I thought we had been through the mill long enough to forget all this business of not playing football. But I guess we were all wrong. We are trailing Georgia. It looks like this is just another football game. And it looks as if we are just another football team instead of one that is going down the schedule list un-

I think Wynne was making a great speech without realizing He told me a little of it and his boys told a little more of He wasn't making any dramatic plea. He was just talking. He did what a lot of the old generals did in the days when wars were romantic and not strewn along miles after miles of muddy trenches. The old generals used to make personal appeals to their soldiers, to recite the glories of other battles and I think Wynne was unconsciously doing this.

"I thought we were a great team when we beat Tulane," he said. "And even against Tech in the rain and the mud we played good football. It seemed until today that we were a real football team. I know that Coach Kiley and I had thought so. But today it looks as if we have forgotten all about those other games and what we had hoped to do.

"Now, there are some plays that Coach Kiley and I think will work. Georgia is playing their ends smashing in. I think you should have not tried that before, and run some wide end sweeps. And there are some other plays you have that I told you about before the game.

"Now there is still time to go back there and see if you are a football team."

Those who saw told me that most of the Auburn team, the eleven men who had sat there in the cold bus like so many school kids at their desks, were crying when they came out. It is curious to see a college team cry. They used to. But today the game has come to be so highly developed and specialized that there is no time for forensic orations.

Wynne said that he didn't know what his team would do when it went back on the field. As a matter of fact, Georgia took the ball and started another drive like the one which had scored late in the first half. It looked very much as if Auburn was not going to come back.

But then came a fumble and Auburn got the ball. And it was then that Auburn ran her sweeps which wore down the Georgia defense. Auburn went on to prove that they were not just another football team.

And that was the story of what happened between the halves, the story of eleven kids in a bus.

is a football party for the visitors and their friends in Columbus. Saturday night found Jim Woodruff host at his magnificent country home, some 14 miles out of Columbus on Lake Cora. There is a large living room, some 60 feet or more long with a great fireplace at each end in which logs were burning. The nostalgic odor of wood smoke perfumed the air.

There was a beauty about the place that was almost music. The great hand-hewn beams gleamed high in the ceiling in the soft light from the chandeliers. And the paneled walls of pecked-cyprus were ancient looking and warm. And the mantel-

The Petrels will go out to play the Mercer Bears, champions of the Dixie conference, with full strength available. That is an unusual situation for an Oglethorpe team, which is hounded by an injury jinx, but one that is greeted with unstinted approval. Wayne Pickard, regular tackle, who has been injured for some time, returns for this game.

Lake Russell's Mercer team has just won the first football championship in the school's history. The Bears defeated Chattanooga to win the title in the Dixie conference. They have lost only one game this season. Furman beat them, 2 to 0, in a great defensive battle.

Jack Phillips and Wink Davis, both sure tacklers, were at defensive halves most of the time and when Tech got only who fields about 1.000 on punts, was shot back to safety.
Only two substitutions were made in the starting line, which was that of the first team. Thus Coach Alexander manipulated for Florida just as he had done for Alabama but this dackfield.

Young Phillips, playing his first game, distinguished himself about as much in all-around fashion as Dean, another soph, did with his punting against 'Bama. He backed the line splendidly and on offense three times was able to cross Florida up with passes to Goldsmith, one of which was called back on penalty.

Yesterday's firing, one of the last big salvos of the waning season, offered few surprises except in the acores, as all the leading favorites won although, in some instances, by much narrower margins than had been expected. Weather conditions—a driving rain in the east and intense cold in the midwest—were responsible for some of these surprises.

Michigan, co-holder of the Big Tentitle with Northwestern and Purdue a year ago, assumed sole ownership of the 1932 crown by beating Minnesota, 3-0, on Harry Newman's placement field goal. Purdue, unbeaten but tied by Northwestern, wound up in second place, routing Indiana, 25-7, in its final contest. Ohio State also called upon a field goal to whip Illinois, 3-0, but Wisconsin trounced Chicago, 18-7, and Northwestern ran up a 44-6 count on Iowa.

Utah swept to its fifth successive Rocky Mountain title as the Indians turned back the Colorado Aggies, 16-0. Brigham Young, beating the Utah Aggies, 18-6. clinched second place.

Notre Dame, traveling the comeback road after its defeat by Pitt. ran into a stout-hearted Navy defense but won, 12-0, but the east countered this intersectional defeat with Fordham's 8-6 triumph over Oregon State.

The midwest chalked up two other intersectional victories as Marquette whipped Washington and Jefferson. 6-0, and Creighton handed Wyoming a 34-0 lacing, but suffered one reverse as Gonzaga beat South Dakota, 12-0.

And there is a story-teller from the old country, his father and mother came over from the county of Mayo and the Connemara mountains. And they left him the gift of telling a story. But the best they told was one on him. Of how, some years ago, on a hunting trip, they stopped at a small village and some of the party pointed out the towering six-foot-six of the doctor's huge frame and told one of the townsmen he was an ex-heavyweight champion of the world. Which he wasn't at all.

And of how the resident said they had a young man who was the 170-pound champion of the A. E. F. and of how the doctor protested until the townsman asked if he was afraid. And his Irish rose. So they got the young man from the plow and drove four miles for some gloves. And the doctor and the young man stripped to the waist and fought. And of how the doctor's friend who was holding the watch, let the first round go seven

TUST a week ago . . . Walter P. Chrysler announced the new Plymouth Six. Just seven days . . . but wherever you go . . . in hotels, clubs, on trains and in theatre lobbies ... you hear people say:

"The new Plymouth Six is a coming bestseller." "It's bound to be America's next Number One Car."

Clearly, Walter P. Chrysler and his engineers knew what people wanted. They knew the combination of a six-cylinder engine with Floating Power was unbeatable.

They knew that Americans hate to be squeezed in ... so they made the new Plymouth Six a big, full-sized car.

They understood human nature. We all want a car that travels fast ... that's thrilling to drive. They made it safer than other low-priced cars . . . by giving it a safety-steel body . . . hydraulic brakes . . . a rigid-X frame . . . and a safety-glass windshield.

They built it to set new economy records ... in gas, oil, tires and upkeep. And, last but not least, they gave people a low-priced car without that "low-priced look."

No wonder Walter P. Chrysler invites you to drive this much talked-about automobile! No wonder he wants your answer to the intriguing question: "Will this be America's next Number One Car?"

Life Insurance Annuities Show Amazing Increase in Popular Favor

$68,000,000 GAIN OVER '31 DEPOSITS BY 20 COMPANIES

During a period marked by serious deflation of most types of securities and property one form of investment has shown an amazing increase in popular favor since 1930. It is the annuity contracts of the leading life insurance companies.

Insurance companies.

Facts furnished by William Harrison, general agent of the Connecticut Life Insurance Company, with offices in the Citizens & Southern Bank building, disclose that the annuity deposits of the 20 larger insurance companies increased from $53,000,000 in 1931, an increase of $68,000,000—and that during 1932 the Connecticut Mutual has shown a further increase in its annuity business of nearly 50 per cent the same period of last year.

The factors accounting for this in-The factors accounting for this in rease were summarized by Mr. Harrison as follows: 1—The certainty of a stable income for life, contrasted with the fluctuations and insecurity of many types of investments.

2—Larger incomes, combined with regularity and peace of mind. For example, the return at age 40 exceeds 6 per cent; at age 50, 7 per cent; at age 60, 9 per cent, and afe 70, 13 per cent.

3—Exemption from income tax until the return exceeds the purchase price. The conversion of income-producing assets on which an income tax must be paid to an anythin fraction of the provides a large nuity frequently provides a larger income and at the same time effects a substantial saving by bringing the taxable income into a lower bracket.

Popular New Policies.

4—The new types of annuity contracts which can now be bought on the regular savings plan, deposits being accepted on a monthly, quarterly, semi-annual or annual basis, and stipulating that the income shall commence at any future date the buyer selects.

5—The adaptability of annuity contracts to meet a wide variety of contracts to meet a wide variety of conditions. For example, the fol-lowing are actual cases covered by annuities in the Connecticut Mutual:

(b) Mr. J., age 70, wife 69. No children. Invests $34,075 in a joint and survivorship annuity. The annuity pays $250 every month for the entire life of himself and his wife.

Life Income and Protection.

(c) Mrs. B., school teacher, age 60. Sister living, age 58. Had $10,000 saved over a long period of years. Worried about safe investment. She purchased a deferred annuity with refund so that in event of her death before age 65, at which time she wished to retire, the money would provide a lifetime income for her sister.

her sister.

(d) Mr. P., age 63, wife 60. Retired manufacturer. Most of his money in real estate. Bothered by collecting rents, vacancies, improvecollecting rents, vacancies, improve-ments, taxes and assessments. Sold his property and purchased a sin-gle premium life and annuity com-bination for $110,000. This pro-vides for an income of approxi-mately $5,000 a year for the lifetime of himself and his wife and leaves the principal intact for his chil-dren.

(e) Mr. R., uninsurable. Has large estate and very little life insurance. Confronted by prospect of heavy inheritance taxes necessitating forced liquidation of part of his estate. Purchases single premium 5-year endowment and temmium 5-year endowment and temporary annuity. Total cost, $52,500. No physical examination required. Contract yields an average return of better than 4 per cent during lifetime and leaves $50,000 tax-free insurance to take care of inheritance taxes on the remainder of his estate.

Annuities have been a favored type of investment for many years in thrifty New England and Great Britain, and are just now coming to be appreciated in the south, Mr. Harrison said. Absolute safety and the impossibility of outliving the income make it unique in the field of investments.

Eighteen years ago the Family Finance Company was inaugurated in Atlanta. Its purpose was to render assistance to those who in times of emergency feel the need of personal credit and do not enjoy banking connections. Thousands upon thousands of worthy Atlanta families have thus been helped over rough spots and worry and unhappiness has been banished from many Atlanta homes through the service of this organization.

"Roofs don't wear out—they dry out," says Mr. Hutchison. "Poorly saturated roofing will crumble, dry out and die. It's life span is short-took epends upon one thing—the complete and upon one thing—the complete and uniform saturation of the felt base with 'life-preserving asphalt. Therefore, the way to keep youth in the fore, the way to keep youth in the roof is to put the correct amount of asphalt in the felt and do this completely and uniformly. The Miller processes of super-spray saturation is the week of about 30 points or a dolary of a point of asphalt in the felt and do this complete and all a bale.

This operation is continued many times until the point of complete uniform saturation is reached."

Mr. Hutchison says this accounts for the long years of life stored in the felt as the roof ages it draws new life from the reservoir of asphalt in the felt. The life span of Miller process roofing is lengthened.

Problems of general interest submitted by readers will be discussed in this column. Correspondence invited. Your name held in confidence. Write Miss Chatfield, care The Atlanta Constitution.

We hear a great deal these days about the questionable advantages of riving a college education to young people who are planning to enter business rather than profession. The late lamented philanthropist who gave vast sums of money to promote an already thriving denominational college and to metamorphose it into a great university used to say that the four years of college education was a mere waste of time for the average boy that intended to enter the world of business and that he was giving his money to educate those that wished to enter professional work to educate the lawyers, doctors, engineers and reachers. It is not uncommon to hear sensible men declare that a college course is largely a social advantage these days and that they are not inclined to spend the thousands of dollars necessary to finance a college course simply to give their sons and daughters social advantage.

This is essentially the viewpoint of the uncultured person. CULBERTSON ON CONTRACT

BY ELY CULBERTSON, World's Champion Player and Greatest Card Analyst.

Masters of Bridge

The adoption of a new international code of Bridge laws by the ruling Bridge bodies in the United States, England and France probably marks a new era of international competition in this splendid intellectual marks a new era of international competition in this splendid intellectual game. Certainly, with people of all races and tougues using the same code of laws, there will be a more general understanding of the principles underlying the game and a more general acceptance of the most advanced thought along the lines of bidding and play.

The Scandinavian peninsula, while it has taken no part in the adjustment of a new code of laws, has long been known as a great center of Contract Bridge. One of the greatest players in Stockholm, the capital of Sweden. is Mr. Ivar Andersson.
